IN MEMORIAM

John G. Heber

John George Heber (1895-1980) long time coach and athletic director at Lexington's Henry Clay High School, died February 11, 1980 in a Lexington hospital following a stroke.

Mr. Heber was a graduate of the University of Kentucky, where he was an All-Southern end on the football team and a member of the baseball team. For many years he did the public address of the Kentucky football games when the Wildcats home games were played on old Stoll Field.

In 1923 he began his long coaching career at old Lexington Senior High School, but most of his coaching years were at Henry Clay High School, when it was located on East Main Street. In 1954 the school renamed their athletic field from Cassidy Field to Heber Field in his honor. The school retained the name "Heber Field" when it built its new school and athletic field in 1971. He retired as a teacher, coach and athletic director from the Lexington school in 1964.

For many years John Heber assisted the Kentucky High School Athletic Association with many of their activities and only last year he was seen at the state High School Track meet with his stop watch timing running events.
